OPTUS STADIUM LEADING THE WAY

HDNWA proudly supported 47 candidates through interviews with Optus Stadium as part of their inclusive recruitment drive.

This event was more than just interviews – it showcased what happens when employers genuinely commit to inclusion. Optus Stadium continues to set the standard in hospitality and tourism by creating meaningful opportunities for people with disability.

HDNWA partnered closely with providers to ensure candidates were aligned to the right roles, prepared, and confident walking into the interviews. This approach ensures capability and potential are front and centre, driving real outcomes for both candidates and employers.

The success of this recruitment drive reflects:

- Strong partnerships across industry and disability support networks
- Employers recognising the value of capability-first recruitment
- The impact of careful preparation and alignment between candidates and roles

We congratulate Optus Stadium for their leadership and thank all candidates and partners who made this event a success.

It's a clear example of how industry-led, partnership-driven, outcome-focused approaches create inclusive, thriving workplaces.

HDNWA ON ABC RADIO

HDNWA and one of our candidates Eliza, recently featured on ABC Radio, sharing how inclusive employment is shaping the hospitality and tourism industry.

Marnie spoke about HDNWA's work since 2019, creating clear pathways for people living with disability.

We partner with industry, schools, families, and employment providers, collaborating with over 200 businesses and supporting nearly 400 candidates into meaningful roles.

She also highlighted our Passport to Your Career Toolkit, funded by Tourism Western Australia and co-designed with students with disability. The toolkit equips students and job seekers with practical skills to enter and sustain hospitality roles.

Eliza shared her journey, speaking about how her confidence has grown through work, the skills she's developed, and her goal to become a manager.

Her story reflects the opportunities that inclusive employment can create. The interview also showcased the work at Optus Stadium, where 47 candidates recently participated in a recruitment drive, demonstrating how industry-led collaboration builds diverse, capable teams.

Sharing our story on radio helps raise awareness and drive practical change in WA's hospitality sector. Listen to it Here, the segment starts around 1:15

PUTTING THE N IN THE NETWORK

This month's DINO (Disability Interagency Networking Opportunity) event, hosted by the Cities of Wanneroo, Stirling, and Joondalup, aimed to strengthen the disability network in northern suburbs.

The DINO Working Group facilitated discussions on local issues and potential project partnerships, focusing on Pathways to Employment and Collaborations. Key discussions addressed collaboration, funding, and sector challenges, with HDNWA promoting disability confidence in hospitality and tourism sectors to connect individuals with sustainable jobs.

The event also distributed the latest School Leaver Toolkit, discussing the transition challenges faced by school leavers with disabilities and the need for enhanced support.

Overall, it was a valuable platform for resource sharing and improving employment pathways for individuals with disabilities.

CELEBRATING OUR PROVIDER PARTNERSHIPS

At HDNWA, our mission to increase sustainable employment for people living with disability in the hospitality and tourism industry is powered by collaboration.

We're proud to work with a strong network of dedicated employment service providers who share our commitment to inclusive, capability-focused recruitment.

THANK

This year, we've welcomed new provider partners into the HDNWA network, organisations bringing fresh perspectives, expertise and tailored support that help people with disability prepare for work, gain confidence, and secure meaningful opportunities.

We also want to recognise and thank the providers who continue to partner with us. Their ongoing support and dedication have been essential in helping candidates transition from job readiness to employment. Together, we are building an ecosystem of support that makes real outcomes possible.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

This month, we are proud to highlight the ongoing partnership between HDNWA and PCEC (Perth Convention and Exhibition Centre).

PCEC is not only creating opportunities, they are building sustainable career pathways. Together, we are securing long term, meaningful roles for our candidates within their team.

These are positions where individuals can develop their skills, build confidence, and grow over time in a supportive hospitality environment.

By embedding inclusive practices into their workforce, PCEC is strengthening their team while creating real employment outcomes. Stable roles mean greater independence for our candidates, stronger retention for the business, and a workplace culture that values diversity.

We are proud to work alongside a venue that sees the value in investing in people and creating opportunities that last. We look forward to continuing this positive momentum and supporting more candidates into sustainable roles within their team.
